Flexible and rigorous, these qualifications enable students to experiment with their creativity and gain transferable skills such as team work, leadership, negotiation and time management, in order to help prepare them for work in the music industry.

Gain the skills and confidence required for a fulfilling career in the creative industries.

Did you know that the creative industries are the fastest growing sector of the UK economy? With 2 million jobs, the UK's creative industries continue to develop new jobs faster than any other sector in the UK. Meet the demand by studying for a UAL Music Performance and Production qualification.

Developed in response to industry needs and to provide students with an understanding of Music Performance and Production, our qualifications prepare students for successful academic and professional futures.

Taught by experienced music professionals, students will develop presentation skills, creative problem solving and communication skills which are sought after by universities and employers.

Students completing a qualification in Music Performance and Production can gain the UCAS points required to progress to higher education or pursue exciting careers in the music industry.

Level 1

Provides opportunities for those intrigued and motivated by the arts to explore, develop and test their creativity within a structure that will provide a sound base of skills and knowledge.

Level 2

Students begin to understand Music Performance and Production as a collaborative activity and prepare them for the reality of the sector, progression and paths available to them.

Level 3

Students begin to develop the knowledge and skills necessary to access and progress to degree level study or employment in the industry.

UAL Awarding Body's qualifications provide the space and opportunity for tutors and students to experiment and collaborate, allowing them to indulge in their passion for music.

Why teach UAL Awarding Body Music Performance and Production qualifications?

UAL Awarding Body's qualifications are empowering, inspiring and developed in partnership with industry partners, in order to provide students with the latest knowledge and skills.

“These qualifications give students autonomy in their creative field and also give flexibility to tutors, so that they can mould their course how they want it to be.”

Alex Searle, Head of Further Education, Academy of Contemporary Music

Educators are given the power to tailor these qualifications in response to individual, social and geographical needs by introducing students to the various skills, techniques and opportunities available to them.

“These qualifications are written by people who understand the arts.”

Luke Branch, Music Tutor, South Essex College

Getting the support you need to help your students succeed.

What sets us apart as an awarding organisation is the number of ways we listen to and support our centres. We offer a programme of free events throughout the year to support centres in the delivery and standardisation of our qualifications. Centres have access to our team of External Moderators and Chief Examiners throughout the academic year and new centres or centres delivering new qualifications will receive an advisory visit from UAL Awarding Body when they start delivering.

“The structure of the qualifications matches industry.”

Andy Guy, Lecturer in Music Technology, West Suffolk College
